Air District issues first 2015 Spare the Air Smog Alert Commuters urged to find alternatives to driving alone

SAN FRANCISCO – Today, the Bay Area Air Quality Management District is issuing its first Spare the Air Alert for smog in 2015.

Air quality is forecast to be unhealthy tomorrow, Tuesday, July 28. Light winds, combined with high temperatures and motor vehicle exhaust, are expected to cause unhealthy ozone accumulation in the Bay Area.

“In the next few days, the Bay Area will experience very hot temperatures and the first serious heat event of the summer,” said Jack Broadbent, executive officer of the Air District. “Bay Area residents should take precautions to protect their health by avoiding outdoor activities during the hottest part of the day and reduce overall pollution by carpooling or taking public transit.”

The single most effective way for residents to reduce smog is to drive less. Air District survey results find that Bay Area employees are more likely to adopt alternatives to driving alone when encouraged to do so by their employer. Bay Area employers with 50 or more full-time employees are now required to offer commuter benefits to their employees. For more information about the Commuter Benefits Program, visit 511.org and click on Bay Area Commuter Benefits Program.

Spare the Air Alerts are issued when ozone pollution is forecast to reach unhealthy levels. Ozone, or smog, can cause throat irritation, congestion, chest pain, trigger asthma, inflame the lining of the lungs and worsen bronchitis and emphysema. Long-term exposure to ozone can reduce lung function. Ozone pollution is particularly harmful for young children, seniors and those with respiratory and heart conditions. When a Spare the Air Alert is issued, outdoor exercise should be done only in the early morning hours when ozone concentrations are lower.

To improve air quality, residents are encouraged to walk, bike, carpool or take transit instead of driving alone, not just on Spare the Air days, but every day. Residents can visit www.stacommuetetips.org to find a list of commute programs and incentives available where they live and work.

To find out when a Spare the Air Alert is in effect, residents can register for email AirAlerts at www.sparetheair.org, call 1(800) HELP-AIR, download the Spare the Air App or connect with Spare the Air on Facebook or Twitter.

There is no free transit tomorrow and there is no wood burning ban in place.
