Cogeneration System: Natural Gas Engine
1200 California Corporation
1200 California St, San Francisco, CA 94109

The Bay Area Air Quality Management District (the “District”) is a local agency that regulates stationary sources of air pollution such as factories, industrial sites, and gasoline stations.

Whenever we receive a permit application for a new or modified source(s) of toxic air contaminants located within 1,000 feet of a school site, State law requires that we notify the public. To comply with this requirement, we distribute or mail a Public Notice to the parents or guardians of students enrolled at schools located within ¼ mile, and all residents and businesses located within 1,000 feet, of the proposed source(s).

You are receiving this Public Notice because a permit application has been filed with the District for the above referenced source(s) of air pollution. A description of the proposed project follows:

1200 California Corporation has applied for an Authority to Construct and Permit to Operate a Natural Gas Powered Cogeneration System that is used to provide electrical and thermal energy to the 24-story residence complex. The emissions from the proposed engine are lower than the federal and state emission standards.

PRELIMINARY EVALUATION

The District has evaluated the permit application for the proposed project and has made a determination that the project is expected to comply with all applicable District, state, and federal air quality-related regulations, including the health risks resulting from toxic air contaminant emissions. The preliminary recommendation is to issue a permit for this project. After considering all comments received, the District will make a final determination.

If you are interested in obtaining more information, you may request copies of the District's evaluation report by calling the District at the telephone number listed at the end of this notice. This information also accessible on the District website at:
