SECTION II – BACKGROUND

A. Air District Overview

The Bay Area Air Quality Management District was created by the California Legislature in 1955 as the first regional agency to deal with air pollution in California. The Air District jurisdiction includes Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, Napa, Santa Clara, San Francisco, San Mateo, southwestern Solano, and southern Sonoma counties.

The State Legislature originally gave the Air District the authority to regulate stationary sources of air pollution, such as factories, oil refineries, chemical plants, gasoline stations, and agricultural burning. With more recent legislation, the Air District was granted authority to enact certain transportation and mobile source measures.

The Air District is governed by a twenty-four member Board of Directors, consisting of elected officials, including county supervisors, mayors, and city council members. The Interim Executive Officer / Air Pollution Control Officer for the Air District is Sharon Landers.

B. Climate Tech Finance Program

As part of its vision for a post-carbon Bay Area by 2050, the Air District established the Climate Tech Finance (CTF) program in 2018 to scale up technologies that reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. This program provides financial and technical support to small businesses, entrepreneurs, and lenders to encourage the commercialization of climate technologies. The program's overall goal is to accelerate climate technologies and practices across California and beyond.

CTF helps entrepreneurs secure working capital loans from banks. The program encourages banks to lend to climate entrepreneurs by offering a loan guarantee of up to 80% of the loan principal or $5 million, whichever is less.

CTF products are offered through a partnership with the California Infrastructure and Economic Development Bank (IBank). In this partnership, IBank provides the loan guarantee vehicle; the Air District identifies potential loan guarantee applicants and evaluates their technology, GHG reductions, and racial and social equity impacts.

The goals of the CTF program include the following:

- Accelerate development and adoption of technologies that reduce GHGs;
- Reduce the perceived risk of technologies that reduce GHGs;
- De-risk the lending process and enable community banks to participate in a high-growth, high-impact sector;
- Support access to capital that helps developers of emerging technology get “over the hump” to product commercialization and that speeds uptake in California;
- Promote innovation and energy resiliency in new and existing infrastructure; and
- Reduce GHGs by decarbonizing the California economy.
Through this RFQ, the Air District seeks to select one or more consultants to provide financial development support services for CTF. The selected consultants will work with the Air District’s CTF team. Consultants interested in submitting a statement of qualifications to provide such services are required to follow the recommended guidelines and instructions contained in this RFQ. If it becomes necessary to revise any part of this RFQ, revisions will be provided by addenda posted on the RFP/RFQ page of the Air District’s website.

SECTION III – GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES

The Air District is seeking skilled finance consultants for ongoing deal sourcing, deal development, and project management of CTF loan guarantees.

A. Services Needed

The successful finance consultants will provide the following services for the CTF loan guarantee program:

- Support Startup Funding Needs
  Support climate technology entrepreneurs in their financial planning, advocate for their success and connect them with identified financial institutions. Review financial documents and provide technical assistance in preparing financing packages for potential lenders. Support the CTF team in helping to secure debt funding needed for entrepreneurs to successfully make the transition from early-stage to high-growth companies.

- Provide Financial Analysis
  Conduct the assessment of profitability and viability of startups by reviewing their financial statements, such as balance sheets, income statements, tax returns and projected sources and uses of funds. Evaluate and provide feedback to technology entrepreneurs on the proposed business plan. Report the gaps and potential concerns to the CTF team and if feasible provide solutions to entrepreneurs.

- Understand Climate Technologies
  Have basic understanding of emerging climate technologies, their applications and need in the current market and environment. Ability to explain the key features of identified climate technologies to interested parties. Desire to advance the adoption and development of climate technologies for cleaner and more resilient climate.

B. Additional Desired Services

The services identified below are not required, however the Air District shall prioritize firms that have experience with the following services:

- Develop Banking Relationships
  Identify financial institutions (commercial banks, community development financial institutions, credit unions) that are ready to offer debt financing to climate technology entrepreneurs and introduce the key features of the program. An experienced financial expert would explain how these technology projects fit banks’ portfolios and how the loan guarantee works. Increase the network of lenders who participate in the loan guarantee program and are willing to fund climate technology ventures.
• Identify Process Efficiencies
Introduce shovel-ready projects to financial institutions and the CTF team to shorten the time between introduction and loan execution. This could mean faster identification of potential users and their decision cycles. Ensure that communications are reaching the right people at the right point in their decision cycles.

• Provide Strategic Input
As appropriate, develop additional objectives and strategies to enhance the broad strategic impact of the CTF program. Advise on potential partnerships and recommend additional changes to the existing program to make CTF more attractive to regulated lenders and broaden the potential participant pool.
