Re: Return to Office Planning and Distributed Work Updates

RECOMMENDED ACTION

None; receive and file.

BACKGROUND

In March 2020, the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic and related public health policy and guidance required the Air District to move board meetings, staff work and operations to a mostly remote work environment. Management found that productivity and communication increased throughout the Air District during this time. As the pandemic stretched into late 2020 and public health guidance to keep workers remote persisted, Air District management and staff recognized that the future of the Air District's work could be performed in the same distributed way it had during the pandemic, meaning that some operations could be performed remotely long-term and some operations would continue to require work to be performed in the office or in the field. Air District management created the Remote Work Taskforce to study the Air District's ability to perform work in this distributed way and to create a policy to expand the opportunities for permanent remote work at the Air District. Additionally, Air District management has followed the public health guidelines in anticipation of developing a return to the office plan which includes vaccine and reporting requirements, guidance on face-coverings, COVID-19 testing requirements and preparing Air District facilities for a return of staff to the office environment.

DISCUSSION

Air District management works in collaboration with our building partners, the Metropolitan Transportation Commission (MTC) / Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) and the Bay Conservation and Development Commission (BCDC) through our partnership at the Bay Area Headquarters Authority (BAHA) to develop a policy that is consistent throughout the shared agency spaces at the MetroCenter located at 375 Beale Street in San Francisco.

Management is also in negotiations with the Employees' Association for mandatory subjects of bargaining as it relates to the policies.
Staff will present the Air District's COVID-19 health protective policy direction, discuss the Air District's distributed work plan and next steps in the planning for an eventual implementation of a return to the office environment, expected in Summer 2022.
