Air District hosts open house on plan for clean air and climate protection in Cupertino

SAN FRANCISCO – The Bay Area Air Quality Management District invites the community to an open house in Cupertino this evening to review Spare the Air - Cool the Climate, the Air District's 2017 Clean Air Plan, a bold vision for the Bay Area for clean, healthy air and a sustainable climate.

The open house provides an opportunity to speak with Air District staff and review the points laid out in the plan to help reduce air pollution in our communities and provide the guidance and leadership to help the region meet our climate protection goals for the future. Attendees can talk and interact with staff, view displays, and provide comments.

The open house will take place:

Monday, January 30
5:30-7:30 PM
Quinlan Community Center
10185 N Stelling Rd
Cupertino, CA
