

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: May 1, 2018
CONTACT: Tom Flannigan - 415.749.4900

Air District supports state's lawsuit against Trump's plan to scrap emissions standards

SAN FRANCISCO – Statement by Jack Broadbent, executive officer of the Bay Area Air Quality Management District, about the State of California's decision to sue the Trump Administration over their plans to roll back auto emissions standards:

"The Bay Area Air District strongly supports the State of California's lawsuit against the Trump Administration's misguided efforts to roll back vehicle emissions standards. The stakes are too high for California to back down. Californians have benefited from decades of hard-fought economic, health and environmental progress gained through achievable emissions standards. The Trump Administration is moving in the wrong direction and we must not waiver in our fight for tougher emissions standards and cleaner air for the health of Bay Area residents. We must set the bar higher and not settle for anything less."

The Bay Area Air Quality Management District is the regional agency responsible for protecting air quality in the nine-county Bay Area. Connect with the Air District via Twitter, Facebook, and YouTube.

#

Air District Communications Office
375 Beale Street, Suite 600, San Francisco, CA 94105
Air District Homepage | News Releases